A NOTE FROM NATHALIE

Hello February!

Although it is the shortest month, it's packed with special days and significant history celebrations.

We honor the ongoing and historical contributions of Black Americans this month and celebrate the Lunar New Year! We are so fortunate to have such diverse staff and multicultural participants- learning about one another's cultures and appreciating our differences truly takes our connection to the next level.

This month also includes Valentine's Day, a day celebrating love, and you know what? I can wholeheartedly say that our team LOVES each and everyone of our participants and their children. We thank you for continuing to take this journey with us and we cannot wait until we can be together in person again.

In this together,

Nathalie
